

RECORDING AND AV

What James brings, and what helps him prepare.

VIRTUAL AND PODCASTS

- Any browser studio or meeting link works: Zoom, Riverside, StreamYard, Squadcast and the like.
- James is in Tulsa, Oklahoma, on US Central Time.
- He joins ten minutes early for a sound and camera check.
- Recorded or live, either is fine.

IN PERSON, BY ARRANGEMENT

- A lavalier or headset microphone, so his hands are free.
- A screen with HDMI input and a presentation clicker.
- Slides are 16:9 and arrive at least three days before the event.

HELPFUL TO SEND AHEAD

- The link, the date and the time, with your time zone.
- Run time, and whether there is audience Q&A.
- Who is listening: their work, and what they are wrestling with right now.
- Questions you plan to ask, if you work from a list.
- Your episode or event page, so he can share it.

USE FREELY

The bios, the headshots and the introduction may be used as they are to promote the episode or event. Please credit the photos to James Bullis.
